Our number one concern is the safety and health of our students, faculty, and staff. To prevent the potential spread of the coronavirus and to encourage social distancing, building access on both campuses is restricted.

Personnel who are not working from home and must be present will still have card swipe access to their offices. All face to face classes, practices, private lessons, rehearsals, or any other face to face meetings are prohibited.

For the full list of buildings, facilities, and access restrictions, please see below.
